

Again, as an organic producer, biosecurity is very important to us. When we have folks visit our farm, they are required to wear plastic booties. We have been reasearching boot wash/disinfectants that meet organic standards and have found one that we think qualifies, so we will be starting to use this in the spring of 2010.